

Distance Education

APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY

EDUCATION SPECIALIST DEGREE IN HIGHER EDUCATION

ADULT & DEVELOPMENTAL EDUCATION

COHORT PROPOSED FOR FALL 2016 FORSYTH COUNTY

- Accepting applications until June 1, 2016 or until cohort is filled. A master's degree is required to apply.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

- Prepares individuals for leadership positions in programs serving nontraditional students at two-year and four-year colleges and in adult education programs in businesses and community agencies.
- Up to 30 credit hours transfer into App State's doctoral program in Educational Leadership.
- Find out more at: highered.appstate.edu

PROGRAM DELIVERY

- Part-Time, Hybrid (30% or more online delivery)
- Two courses per term, including summers (one course will meet on a weeknight and the other will meet on up to 5 Saturdays)
- Proposed Graduation Date: Spring 2018

CONTACT

Bronwen Sheffield, Program Manager

web distance.appstate.edu

email distance@appstate.edu

phone 800.355.4084

CAREER OPTIONS

Graduates are typically employed as leaders in career-tech programs, adult education, developmental education, departmental faculties, and student success programs, in positions such as:

- Vice presidents, deans & department chairs
- Directors of instructional support services
- Deans, directors, or lead faculty in college readiness programs (basic skills and developmental education)
- Lead faculty in ESOL programs
- Officers in professional organizations
- Professional developers/trainers
- Program/curriculum developers

Check out tuition rates at distance.appstate.edu/financial-information

Appalachian
STATE UNIVERSITY